Closeup

Lake in the Hills, once a rural community with farms dotting the land not more than 15 years ago, has grown into one of the biggest and most progressive cities in the county. With more than a dozen LARGE developments springing up in the last 10 years, Lake in the Hills was one of the fastest growing cities in the U.S. in the late 90's/early 2000's. It shares the Randall Rd corridor with Algonquin and has many shopping destinations there for consumers as well as new strip centers opening up all over to meet the need of a vastly growing population. Lake in the Hills is also home to the only business airport in the county.
