Closeup

Marengo is one of Illinois' newly designated "Main Street Communities". Located only 8 miles north of I-90, this village offers residents estate-style living away from the hustle and bustle of suburban life, while maintaining easy access to major Interstates. Marengo is home to the Nissan Forklift factory and is their hub of distribution for the entire United States. With a labor force of nearly 140,000 people, Marengo is one of the biggest employers in the county.
